COUNTY TEACHERS' INSTITUTE. It Will Be Held in the Court House

Next Week. The teachers of Lackawanna county have been summoned to meet in annual institute during next week at the court house in this city.

The session will last throughout the week, the teachers enrolling on Monday and paying a fee as in previous years, which entitles them to the evening entertainments and free music

The institute will be made especially attractive and interesting to the teachers by the fact that several eminent educators will be present and lend their services to the work. Dr. N. C. Schaeffer, superintendent of public instruction; Dr William A. Mowry, president of the Martha's Vineyard Summer Institute also author of a series of history and civil government text-books, Miss Margaret McCloskey, training teacher in the State Normal school at Edinboro, Pa.: Dr. S. C. Schmucker, professor of biographical sciences in the State Normal school at West Chester. Prof. John T. Watkins of this city will have charge of the music.

Three evening entertainments will e given at the High school auditorium. Dr. Mowry will lecture Tuesday evening on "Napoleon's Easter in 1813, and What Came of It." The programme for a musical entertainment on Wednesday evening is being arranged by

Prof. John T. Watkins. On Thursday Dr. John B. DeMotte, of Bryn Mawr, will lecture on "Pyth on's Eggs, or the American Boy," Aid to the institute proceedings will also be given by Prof. W. W. Grant, of Scranton High School: A. B. Dunning and Prof. Elkanna Hulley of Keystone Academy. Nature studies, United States history, civil government, and school room decorations are the principal topics for discussion. During the sessions Miss McCloskey will give lectures upon the "Cholce, Use of Pictures in the School Room, and the World's Great Masterpieces of Paintings."

DEATH OF T. J. M'TIGHE.

Washington Avenue, Commonwealth One of the Best Known Young Men Building. in the County.

A sad death occurred yesterday morn-BOOTS, SHOES and RUBBERS ing when Thomas J. McFigne tell a tim to typhoid fever, with which he had been confined to his bed since the had been confined to his bed since the week of the state firemen's convention. Mr. McTighe was exceedingly well known and popular in Lackawanna vlaley, especially in this city and Carbondale, of which latter place he was a native. He was 35 years old, and the son of Bernard and Catherine Mc-Tighe. He came to Scranton while yet a boy and about 15 years ago was a clerk in the Western Union telegraph office, where he became an operator of rare skill. Later on he became a postal agent in the United States mail service between Carbondale and Nineveh. On his father's death some years ago he took charge of the latter's business interests in Carbondale, and conducted them very successfully. In 1892 he married Miss Ellen Clune, daughter of the prosperous Carbondale merchant, John Clune. In 1893, associated with Joseph Melvin, his brother-in-law, he came back to Scranton and took charge of the Hotel American on Franklin avenue, and last spring he assumed charge of the Westminster hotel, and was conducting it most successfully when his career was so untimely cut short.

Thomas McTighe was a true gentlenanfi a kind friend and a genial con panion, and his sad death is regretted by all who knew him.

He is survived by his wife and four little children, his mother, one sister, Mrs. T. F. Walsh, of Green Ridge, and two brothers, John, of Cripple Creek, Col., and James B., of Carbondale. The funeral will take place on Thursday morning with a high mass of resent to us one week after the comquiem at St. Peter's cathedral. Interment will be in the family plot in St. Rose cemetery, Carbondale. Mr. McTighe was one of the charter members of Scranton Lodge of Elks, and the organization will attend his funeral and observe their ritualistic

LOCAL ARCHITECTS man." AND Y. M. C. A. PLANS

DO NOT RELISH THE APOLOGY MADE FOR THEM

Claim That the Prize Winning Plans Cannot Be Carried Out for Anything Like $150,000-Will Exhibit the Plans Made by the Local Architects and Give the Public an Opportunity of Comparing Them with the Work of the Successful Out-of-

The following was yesterday contriouted to The Tribune "The articles appearing in Monday morning's issue of the Scranton papers announcing the winners of the prizes for the proposed Young Men's Christian association building, also accusing the Scranton architects who entered the contest as being slow, etc. calls for a statement of the case from the architects of Scranton.

"The letter to the architects announce ing the competition and rules governing the same were sent on July 18 of this year. The plans were to be in by September 20. In section 12 of the prospectus is the following:

XII. Should it appear that any of the designs thus selected would exceed in cost the limit of one hundred and fifty housand dollars ($150,000), the Trustees shall employ an experienced building contractor to examine them, and should be report that they could not be executed for the sum of one hundred and fifty thousand dollars ($150,600) without such alterations as would radically alter the design, such design or designs shall be rejected and others selected in their place. The report of the award shall then be prepared and announced.

TIME WAS EXTENDED.

"Up to August 14 we all worked with the understanding that September 20 would be the limit of time. On August 15 an extension of time was given until October 15 in which to finish our plans. Up to September 30 fifteen days before the competition was to close, we worked with the understanding that the building should not cost more than $150,000. as mentioned above in the quotation from the prospectus. "In section 8 of the prospectus is the following: VII. The proposed building is to con not exceeding one hundred and fifty housand dollars ($150,000), including the seating and ventilating apparatus, plumbng and wiring, but exclusive of furniture, gymnasium apparatus.

No design which in the judgment of the examiners appears likely to exceed seriously the above limit in cost, will be premiated or considered for adoption. "On Sept. 30 the following note was written to the architects:

Scranton, Pa., Sept. 30, 1800. I. The requirement calling for a Bona Fide" bid from a reputable build er, has been changed to "a careful esti-mate of your own."

II. Provision rejecting plans exceeding limit of cost, set uside. The winner is the one who comes nearest to it however.
III. Read "Elevation" not "Elevations" In section 8. paragraph 3. Geo. G. Mahy.

ONE OF THE COMPLAINTS. "September 30 came on Saturday The date bears the stamp of the postoffice that of October 1. It was delivered Monday, the second day of October, thirteen days before the competition was to close. Could we, in reason be expected to drop our work, upon which we had labored since July 19, and prepare in thirteeh days, plans which would tickle the eyes of judge and committee, by adding details which we had honestly believed could not be carried out on a building costing $150,-Why was not this last circular petiton opened instead of thirteen days before it closed? "The 'first prize' cannot be built fireproof as it now is for anywhere near the amount mentioned in the pros-pectus. The 'second prize' would cost in the neighborhood of $230,000 to build as it now stands. "The public is liable, after the contests of this character are ended to judge any protestors as soreheads. We are not sore, but we are indignant, "Comparing our work with that of outside talent, we are more than ever convinced that it was wrong to go outside of Scranton in conducting this competition. WILL GIVE EXHIBITION.

"There would have been three prizes of $250 each to stay in our city and a first prize of $1,000 still further in- o'clock. creased to $7,500, being 5 per cent, commission for the winning architect. We intend having our Scranton people see that we are not slow, by giving them n public exhibition of our efforts.

The citizens of Scranton are expected to pay for the erection of the building by subscription and it is but fair to the town architects that a public exhibition be held in order that their work might be compared with those of the imported talent. The newspapers made comments upon the small number of local architects entering the competition. They were afraid that just such small treatment would crop out in this competition. It cost each architect between $250 and $300 to prepare each set of plans submitted. would like to hear expressions from the

MR. MAHY'S STATEMENT.

Secretary Mahy when shown the bove last evening stated that all he and to say on the subject was that the award had been made by Professor Hamlin, of Columbia University who has the reputation of being a fair square and impartial judge in contests of the kind just closed.

Mr. Mahy stated that Professor Hamlin stood very high in the esteem of the Architectural association and that he had been seen ed by the building committee for the abovmentioned reasons. He said that the professor's written report as to why he selected the plans of Seymour Davis as the best will reach this city some time this week.

In conclusion Mr. Mahy remarked that the detailed architectural estimate of the cost of the prize winning building which accompanied the plans is just $100 less than the fixed limit, it being exactly $149,900.

The allegation that the Scranton architects were "slow" was not made to the Tribune by the Y. M. C. A. authorities and did not appear in this paper. One local paper on its own accord did, however, make the comment.

PATROLMAN SAUL'S CASE.

Amicable Suit Agreed Upon by Mr. Torrey and Mr. Vosburg.

City Solicitor Vesburg and James H. Torrey, attorney for Patrolman James Saul, yesterday agreed upon a ase stated in the demand made by Mr. Saul for salary which he claims to be due him by the city. The document will be presented to court today and an opinion on the master is expected by Saturday next.

The document is simply a brief and areful review of the facts in the case, neluding Mayor Moir's letter to councils informing them of his removal of Saul on Aug. 15, and also his letter in which he informs them of his appointment of 'lockenberry. The fact that select council has never approved of the mayors removal of Saul is also cought oct. The fact that Saul drew but seven teen days' pay for the month of August and that he now demands the bolance for August and for the entire month of September, claiming that he has not been legally removed is then taken up and the concluding clause is as follows:

"If the court shall be of the opinion of the foregoing stated facts that the plaintiff is entitled to recover then judgment to be entered for the balance evators, bowling alleys, lockers and of his salary as patrolman from the eighteenth day of August, 1899, to the first day of October, 1999, or $107.50, with cests of gult, or such part thereof as the court and him entitled to: otherwise judgment to be entered for defendant with costs.

THERE IS STILL A DOUBT.

Park Improvement Ordinance Having Its Own Troubles.

There are doubts existing as t whether the $30,000 bond issue for the improvement of the public parks can be issued. Park Commissioners Bedford and Scranton talked the matter over yesterday with Deputy Controller Hartley and went away not altogether satisfled with the outlook.

A statement of indebtedness must first be drawn up before the issue can the last statement prepared in 1898 inasmuch as it wil be up-to-date, that is, up to Oct. 31, while the other statement above referred to was only up to the beginning of the fiscal year.

This question has also been a much discussed one as to whether the statement should be up to date or whether it should only date to the beginning of the fiscal year. Controller Howell will not commit himself as to whether there will be a the city's portion on sewers and unsatisfied judgments are taken into consideration the general concensus of opinion seems to be that the outlook for the issuance of the bonds is very dublous.

LECTURE ON THE CONFESSIONAL

First of a Series Under the Auspices of the Newman Club. Rev. P. J. Loughran, of the Cathedral delivered the first of a series of historical lectures before the Newman club at the Guernsey building last night, taking as his theme, "The Confessional." He took up the claim that private be made and Controller Howell is confession was a creation of the Fourth working on this now. It will be unlike Lateran council in the Thirteenth century, and proceeded to refute it quoting references to private confession from writings of almost every century of the Christian era preceding that time. Public confession, Rev. Father Loughran, claimed, was practiced, but was not considered necessary to the sacrament of penance. It was al ways subsequent to private confession and was a discipline imposed only for satisfaction and edification. At the conclusion of the lecture the City Failed to Take Advantage of His Generosity.

Franklin Howell, who offered to advance $700 or the city's share of the cost of the Scranton street sewer. without interest, in order that the work might be done immel'a cly, has decided that inasmuch as the city did not take advantage of the offer in reasonable time he will wan; six per cent. Interest if the offer is accepted. This is one of the sewers contracted for in which there is no provision as yet for the payment of the city's share, and Mr. Howell's offer was, of course, hailed by the property owners with delight. His demand that he be paid six per cent, interest will necessarily not be considered and the residents of Scranton street must wait till the $225,000 bond ordinance is passed before the sewer can be commenced.
